COMPANY PROFILE

MERCATUS is a leading European manufacturer of refrigerated foodservice equipment. Established back in 1995, we built our reputation throughout the years, based on trust, proximity and responsiveness, enabling us to develop a global distribution network that serves customers in more than 50 countries worldwide.

MERCATUS offers a complete range with solutions for every need of commercial refrigeration, including undercounter and preparation tables, reach-in cabinets, cold rooms, blast chillers and freezers. Our products are use-oriented, with qualitative technical specifications to provide the best cooling performance for each type of food product, and thoughtful ergonomic design to add practicality and comfort to their operation.
