COMPANY PROFILE

CMW Foundries is a Portuguese foundry group founded in 1981. We are specialists in wear resistant technical castings, and we produce sand castings in high alloyed cast iron, steel, austenitic manganese steel, stainless steel and nickel based alloys.

We operate three foundries in Portugal, two close to Oporto and one near Lisbon.

With installed capacity to produce 10.000 tons of castings per year, we can manufacture and deliver finished castings in a wide variety of alloys, for weights up to 8 Tons.

We keep engineering, pattern making, quality control and machining under one roof, to create an efficient process and short communication lines, which reflects our full commitment to ensure high quality products and on-time deliveries.

We are focused on long term customer satisfaction through competitive prices, high quality of castings, on time deliveries and efficient service.

Our core business is supporting costumers with technical assistance in order to develop and produce wear solutions in materials resistant to abrasion, impact, corrosion, and temperature, to increase lifetime of components and achieve cost savings.
